

¡Viva Cuba! Won't be long now ... doors are opening

SO HERE BEGINS AGAIN A NEW YEAR. WE HAVE a fresh set of challenges to face; dreams to imagine; goals to achieve; seeds to sow. As the sun begins its climb in the southern sky we recognize the passing of time which shall never return, neither to bother nor excite. Ahead of us lies a path possibly fraught with danger, but definitely paved with heavenly miracles. And the work goes on

Only Heaven knows how many minds have been set free by the publications which have gone out of our doors. The millions of books and booklets carried by faithful book evangelists (many of whom have been supported by your faithful giving) have surely done their work — and indeed are still proclaiming their silent witness.

We have taken books into almost every country on the planet. We watched the Iron Curtain fall and quickly hatched a plan to spread seeds of hope and truth across all the lands of the former Soviet Union. Still a handful of Communist countries remain largely unentered by mainstream Christianity. But their day is coming; soon the Gospel message will again be given a brief window of time to shout its tidings of joy and peace, and to announce the coming of our Lord and Savior.

If, because of so much sorrow and horror filling the news slot, you haven't caught the tidings related to the opening of the doors into Cuba, let this short writing tell you that we are a few short weeks away from the “normalization” of relations between the USA and Cuba. We are making plans to take our books into this Caribbean island just 93 miles from the American shores. We are raising funds to print Spanish books to scatter across the country. Final numbers haven't yet been decided, but you can be sure there will be a need for more; there always is.

But, just like in Russia, the window of opportunity will be brief. The exhilaration of freedom doesn't linger long. Soon enough children are born into a land which is not the same as it was for their parents. Freedom of thought brings other challenges, just as it does in the United States, and before long democracy gives birth to other forms of restraint.

Won't you make plans now to be a part of this new mission to the masses in chains? Shackles are borne not just on the wrists, but are often tighter where they are noticed least: in the mind. All your faithful offerings are appreciated and encouraged. Thank you for allowing us to be a part of your missionary activities. We'll keep you informed of our progress.
HAPPY NEW YEAR!
